From the National Alumni President

Dear Alumni,

With a lot of excitement the Greater Columbia Chapter is making preparations for our 20th National Alumni Convention. So please mark your calendars now to be in Columbia, South Carolina July 30 –August 2, 2009.

The National Convention Committee and I are looking forward to greeting you to this convention, with a new twist to the activities. We have enjoyed the role that we have played in the planning process of the last three conventions. For each one we utilized the theme that we selected to work under in 2005, “Ideas + Actions = Success”. Once again we have had great Ideas, some of which will be put into Action, and as always we are expecting great Success. See you in Columbia, South Carolina for an exciting weekend.

With Bulldog Enthusiasm,

Patricia B. Lott

About the Convention

The South Carolina State University National Alumni Association each year convenes its full membership to discuss proposed initiatives and to devise creative strategies for enhancing support of our beloved alma mater. The anticipated outcome is that the ideas discussed will be implemented by local chapters and embraced by the University and our future alumni. We look forward to seeing you in Columbia, SC for Our Association’s most important event of the year.

About Columbia, SC

As the capital of South Carolina, Columbia is a city rich with history. There are numerous things for the entire family to see and do throughout the city. Whether you like visiting places important in history, enjoying the arts, playing or watching sports, attending festivals, or participating in outdoor activities, Columbia is the place for you. See a concert at the Colonial Center, an ice show at the Carolina Coliseum, a Broadway show at the Koger Center, a national dance touring company at The Township, a regatta at Lake Murray, a replica of a three ton white shark at the State Museum, historic homes from the 16th century, festivals, concerts and an amazing view at Finlay Park. Catch a theatrical production at one of Columbia's many theatres. Walk through the tallest trees on the East Coast in the Congaree National Park. Enjoy food from around the world. Play challenging golf courses. Visit Riverbanks Zoo and Botanical Garden, consistently rated one of the nation's "10 Great Zoos. Finally, you can just “hang out” with the Greater Columbia Chapter and other fellow Bulldogs. In short, Columbia really does have it all!

Greater Columbia Chapter Social--“WE LET THE DOGS OUT”

Just one month before the season-opening football game against Benedict College and two months before a return visit to the University of South Carolina, the Greater Columbia Chapter will be ready to let the dogs out! This fun-filled evening will be designed for Bulldogs ready to get their game faces on! Join the National Alumni Association, Coaches, alumni, and fans in enjoying foods from around South Carolina and the color commentary of ESPN Sports Line 103.1FM. You don’t want to miss the FANTastic Bulldog Attire Fashion Show. Take advantage of the opportunity to add to your collection of Bulldog paraphernalia. Hear Head Football Coach Buddy Pough’s predictions and former Coach Willie Jefferies’ tidbits. Then party the evening away with your favorite tunes from the good ole days to the latest hits. Come dressed to impress in your favorite Bulldog attire! <http://www.capitalcitybulldogs.com/>
